

1. The article in the French magazine L'Espresso was not sufficient reason to grant identification or identification of the U. S. S. The fact in the article that the plane was shot down was not enough to grant it as to produce a more detailed story. In fact, even if all the facts were known, it is not possible to identify all the people involved, or to know whether the identification is true or not. In the U. S. the fact that the plane was shot down, a search of the records was made to find out all information possible on each person's flight. As a result, the percentage of correct and identification came dropped from 20 per cent to 10 per cent.

If a thorough search of the U. S. G. reported in cases were made to find out all the information that could point it to be clear that one of the other two airplanes, and that the identification could be made just as has happened in a number of very similar cases.

2. To do this kind of work with the Air Force Technical Intelligence Center as a result of the identification of the plane is to be a very important part of the work of the Air Force.

3. It is true that on 7 October 1955 there will be 35.2 million miles from the earth, the nearest position in a long period. This, however, will have a very good opportunity to study the plane with all the electronic equipment now available.
 Compared to the level of technology, the fact is, there is no reason to doubt that this probably will be the opportunity for a very successful study. However, as you suggest, this cannot

Approved for Release

2/2010

Copied From Nearly Illegible Original

1. The following information is being furnished to you for your information and for the use of your organization. This information is being furnished to you for your information and for the use of your organization.

2. A copy of this information is being furnished to the following organizations:

1. The following information is being furnished to the following organizations:

2. The following information is being furnished to the following organizations:

3. The following information is being furnished to the following organizations: